Starck Whirlpool

Design by Philippe Starck

Airsystem

Just let yourself go and enjoy. Preheated air from 12 jets on the bottom of the bath sets the whole body tingling. The rhythmic stroking motion of the water not only stimulates the circulation but also has a deeply relaxing effect on the nervous system. The stress that builds up throughout the day ebbs away, and the body succumbs to a wonderfully soothing feeling of tranquillity.

Jetsystem

Operated by a controller on the rim of the bath, a mixture of water and air bubbles into the bath from 6 side jets, gently massaging the back, thighs and calves - including the tissue under the skin. Aches and tenseness are banished. Heat is also able to act more effectively. The bubbling water transports it more effectively into the body, with longer-lasting results.

Rotojet

Jets top fit from tip to toe. Carefully coordinated to target the problem areas relating to the back, 3 rotating water-air massage jets massage the shoulder and lumbar regions. This stimulates the circulation, enhances the muscle functions and strengthens the organism - stagnant energy begins to flow again. The reflex zones of the feet can also be massaged by 2 rotating water-air jets to prevent or treat problems in this area.

Lighting

The underwater halogen spotlight conjures up a congenial atmosphere to make sessions in the whirl tub even more pleasurable.

Starck Whirlpool Air-system:

Warm air is injected into the bath by 12 jets embedded in the floor of the tub.

Commercial Urinals

The infrared-controlled electronics automatically detect the arrival of a user and start the flush as soon as the user moves away from the urinal.

When it's time to change the battery, the vandal-proof control unit can be removed and replaced in next to no time.
