bathroom

Established in 1973, Agape aims at creating objects with innovative and aesthetics design in durable and purposeful materials. It helps imagine, interpret and furnish your bathroom in every detail, putting your bathroom in harmony with the other rooms of your home.

This "Memory" collection revives the kind of tub used in bathrooms at the beginning of the last century, giving a new look to today's bathroom. Classic, sophisticated lines reinvented with timeless elegance, including a matching washbasin.

"Sen", in Japanese, means line and absolute linearity is the inspirational force behind this system. The accessories include holders for small objects in various sizes, double toilet roll holder, wall mounted toilet brush and towel holder.

This "Memory" white Cristalplant washbasin, with its rounded edges, follows the curved lines of the bathtub.

Made entirely from white Exmar, "In-Out" is a circular tub with a very versatile personality. It is available to be installed as a free-standing or corner element.

bathroom

Founded in 1817, the brand represents the first-class bathroom design with a long history. Duravit's combination of practicality with individuality has resulted in many pioneering sanitary trends that have become standard features in today's bathrooms.

"PuraVida" - a complete bathroom suite by Phoenix Design that emerged from a joint collaboration with fixture manufacturer Hansgrohe. With PuraVida, tap fittings, ceramic, bathtubs and furniture are interwoven to create unique and evolved continuity.

"PuraVida" WC and bidet as both wall-mounted version (36x54 cm) and as floor-standing version (36x63 cm). The floor-standing WC is combined with a cistern, including WC seat. All WC seats with soft-close lowering mechanism.

"Inipi", the first sauna from Duravit represents the ultimate well-being bath concept.

bathroom

Duravit are moving the indoor spa pleasure out into the open air with weather-resistant bathtubs and pools.

"Blue Moon", Duravit presents a new pool system feature 40 nozzles which provide a range of features from power massage to a bubbling bath. Behind the simplicity of the white or white/steel design is a powerful threefold regeneration system that turns the bathroom into a first-class spa.

"Starck K", the latest creation from famous designer Philippe Starck, collaborated with Duravit for its very first ceramic kitchen sink.

"Sundeck" is suitable not only for the bathroom but also for other private areas in the home : outdoor versions finished in Wengé or Cherry Tree can be installed on a terrace, rooftop, or garden. A permanent water connection is not necessary as the pools can be filled with a garden hose. Both can be covered with a tarpaulin to protect them from outside dirt, leaves and environmental elements. Whether luxuriating in the pool or lying on it, Sundeck turns bathing into a dreamy experience under the open sky.

The first Vola taps and mixers were designed in 1968 by the Danish architect and designer Arne Jacobsen. After 40 years, Vola still has a shape that represents the simplest form, making it extremely elegant and suitable for fitting into any architectural concept.

"FS1" Mixer for free-standing bath tub.

The new freestanding shower system "FS3" with thermostat embodies the Vola character in its purest form; concise, slender, sculptured design. The new "FS3" mimics natural rain fall but unlike nature, the intensity and temperature of the curtains of water can be easily adjusted.

Vola "FS2" is a mixer for freestanding washbasin. The exceptionally tall, slender spout frees up ample space avoiding overexposure of a single item in the interior design.
